Republicans Need Not Fear a Bolt

Asserts He Would Draw as Heavily From Democrats as Own Party

By William Howard Taft The situation at Chicago is a curi-

Senator Johnson is given second place in the number of nstructed delegates, but to do this one must count as instructed the whole known to include several Wood and Lowden delegates.

Senator Johnson has less known support among uninstructed delegates than the other candidates, while Governor Lowden's strength is probably greatest among them. Senator Johnson is the candidate of the radical element in and out of the Republican party, an element that is vociferously demonstrative for him and threatening toward any other Republican candidates.

Radicals for Johnson

All radical delegates in the convention will be for Mr. Johnson, and most of them are included in his instructed support. It is, therefore, impossible to see, unless the convention is stampeded, how Mr. Johnson can be nominated.

California, Michigan and Nebraska, in which, with the united support of the Sinn Féiners, the Progressives and the radical labor vote, who will not support any other Republican candidate, he showed his strength in the primaries. He is naturally a fighting leader and prefers an early, definite, clear-cut stand on an issue.

The suggestion of a ticket with Senator Knox as the Presidential candidate and Senator Johnson as the Vice. Presidential candidate was a humorous one, not because Senator Knox is not in the class from which Presidential candidates may properly be taken,

However, in his public utterances Senator Johnson has modified his statements regarding the treaty plank since it became known that the plank tenta tively agreed upon would be pushed.
